"The Struggle for Life" is a grand drama where a man changes clothes with a senecrow and after the hardships of Paris becomes the son-in-law of a millionaire. J. Stewart and C. McRobbie made a great hit as vocalists and mandolin soloists. This makes twenty weeks for the Wonderful Moving Picture company, and business is growing better every week.

A LUDICROUS SITUATION.

Legal Complications Result in Litigants Suing Themselves.

Poulin, Oct. 15.—An amusing situation that promises many legal complications has developed at Lake St. Catherine, a summer resort two miles from this village.

A few years ago the Granville, N. Y., Electric & Gas company purchased the dam property at the outlet of the lake. In this dam there is a water gate, and during the dry season for the past two summers it has been the habit of the company to open the gate to fill the stream which supplies power for their plant. The result has been that there was not enough water left in the lake to supply a habitation for the fish, the lower end was rendered un navigable with a rowboat, and the cottages, docks and boat houses of campers were left high and dry many rods from the shore. Many people from Wells and Granville own cottages here, and they were highly indignant over the situation. They petitioned the legislature for permission to build another dam higher up on the outlet of the lake, and the request was granted. Money was subscribed and the new dam was built in spite of the strenuous efforts of the power company to the contrary.

The humorous side of the situation has developed from the facts that several Granville parties who were foremost in the move against the electric and gas company have since acquired stock in that concern, and have now secured an injunction against the builders of the new dam—an action in the Vermont courts against themselves! The power company is now rebuilding its dam "to drown out the other one" and flood the bathhouses and docks on the normal high water line. It will be higher than that constructed by the cottagers, and as the latter is of stone it will not float and will therefore remain where it is, an obstruction to navigation, unless next March, when the injunction is returnable, the court orders its removal. The loyal supporters of the second dam will apply to the courts for an injunction against the electric and gas company to stop their work. The lake is about four miles long and a mile wide.

HAD TO BE POSTPONED.

Argument For Dismissal of Indictments Against Hegeman.

New York, Oct. 15.—Because John G. Millburn, counsel for John R. Hegeman, president of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company, under indictment on the charges of perjury and forgery, was engaged in the Standard Oil company case yesterday, argument on the motion to dismiss the indictments against Hegeman scheduled to take place yesterday before Justice Downing was postponed again until Monday next.

Howard S. Gans appeared to argue for the dismissal of the two indictments against Robert A. Granville of the Mutual Life Insurance company, charging forgery in the first degree and misdemeanor.

The defendant contended that both indictments were based upon the same statement of facts charging the filing of a fraudulent report with the state superintendent of insurance for the year ending December 31, 1904, and that since the forgery indictment was found and presented first, the misdemeanor indictment took precedence and the forgery indictment was found to be dismissed. Gans argued that the last indictment found upon the same statement of facts should be the one to stand. Argument on the motion to dismiss whichever indictment stands was set down for October 23.

Our Stand on the Quality Question!

Much is heard nowadays about Clothes quality, and we have contributed our share toward the discussion—and, perhaps, a little more. There are so many reputable lines of Clothing nowadays that there is no excuse for a man getting the worst of it providing he uses common sense and does not try to get something for nothing. We know the quality of "Rosman Clothes." If we didn't, we wouldn't sell them nor ask you to buy them. But, knowing them as we do, we give an unqualified guaranty of quality. The materials are right and the fit can't be beat by anybody in the Clothing business.
